CHICAGO, Jan. 23, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Encore Fiduciary, formerly known as Euclid Fiduciary, a division of Specialty Program Group LLC (SPG), is pleased to announce the release of a valuable resource and risk management tool for large defined contribution plan fiduciaries: The Encore Fiduciary Large-Plan Recordkeeping Benchmark Survey. Authored by Daniel Aronowitz, President of Encore Fiduciary, this study accompanied by a detailed whitepaper, offers a comprehensive benchmark of the recordkeeping fees paid by sponsors of large defined contribution benefit plans.

This survey, which draws on data from over 2,500 large plans with assets exceeding $100 million, and over 1,000 participants for the years 2020, 2021, and 2022, seeks to provide clarity and understanding in the complex landscape of recordkeeping fees. It's a valuable tool for plan sponsors, enabling them to make informed decisions and understand the appropriate costs associated with recordkeeping services.

Daniel Aronowitz, President of Encore Fiduciary, emphasizes the importance of this study: "Our survey offers an unprecedented level of insight and perspective in an area that has been a source of litigation risk for many plan sponsors. Our objective was to empower plan sponsors with the knowledge to make better fiduciary decisions and navigate the often-challenging terrain of fiduciary responsibilities. We also wanted to lower litigation risk for plan sponsors by providing a reliable benchmark that validates the cost of plan administration and recordkeeping for large defined contribution plans."

The survey is more than just a response to the wave of fiduciary imprudence lawsuits seen in recent years. The Encore recordkeeping benchmark provides concrete, reliable data for plans fiduciaries to understand what similarly sized plans are paying for recordkeeping services. This allows plans sponsors to meet fiduciary obligations to act in the best interests of their plans participants.

"This recordkeeping survey is a testament to Encore Fiduciary's commitment to serving as thought leaders and advocates in the fiduciary space. We are not just providing data; we are offering insights and guidance to help plan sponsors safeguard their interests and those of their participants, said Christopher Treanor, President and CEO of SPG.
